A Word of Solemn Conscientions Advice to those who will Reflect.

A class of maladies prevail to a fearful extent in com-nunity dooming at least 100,000 youth of both sexes an unally to an early grave. Those diseases are very im-erfectly understood. Their external manifestations of ymptoms are Nervous D-bility, Relaxation, and Ex-Abbus, &.: Ilkewise Epilepsy, Hysteria, and Nervous Spaams.
Now, in ninety-nine cases out of every one wondred all the above-named disorders, and a host of others not named, as Consumption of the Lungs, and the most finished and wily form of Consumption of the Systema Nerves, known as Tabes Dorsales, and Tabes misenterics, have their seat and origin in disease of Pelvic Viscota. Hence the want of success on the part of old school practice in treating symptoms only.

Dr. Andrew Stone, Physician to the Troy Lung and Hystenic Institution, is now engaged in treating this clease of modern maladies with the most automishing success. The treatment adopted by the Institution is new; it is based upon scientific principles, with new discoiled of the control of their case, without minerals or poisons. The Montgomery (Ala.) Advertiser of the 9th inst. has the following:

The most important Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the Confederate States, which has been sitting in this city since the 3d inst., adjourned on Saturday last. The Convention, if not large, was certainly a highly respectable, able, and influential body of Christian gentlemen. There were in attendance four Bishops, and Clerical and Lay Deputies elected by the Dicean Conventions of seven States. The Convention unanimously, and without debate, passed the first of the following resolutions, severing the connection of the Southern from the Northern Chren, and the second was agreed upon with considerable unanimity of feeling.

THE ARMY of the UNITED STATES Radway's Ready Relief.

INFORMATION FOR THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

Testimony of Field Officers, Company Officers, and entire Regiments in favor of the GREAT PREVENTIVE AND RESTORATIVE.

We propose to offer, in a few brief paragraphs, such proofs of the efficacy of RADWAY'S READY RELIEF as a preventive of and cure for the diseases to which bodies of unacclimated men are peculiarly subject in warm latitudes as cannot fail to command the attenhealth and lives of the tens of thousands of brave and atriotic citizens who have left and are daily leaving heir homes, their families, and their business to fight in its defence.

sick among our gallant volunteer soldiery in CAMP, The subjoined summary of facts, which we respect fully invite the Government to verify by application to the pariles named, includes but a small portion of the voluminous testimony to the same effect received by us within a few weeks from various headquarters of regi ments and detachments in the service of the United States: TESTIMONIAL NO. 1, From the Ninth Regiment N. Y. Volunteers (Zouave. Col. Bush Hawkins, of this regiment (now quarter at Newport News), writes us bestowing the strongest encomiums on the Relief, and recommending it, from the experience of himself and officers, as "a most valuable addition to the army medicine chest," TESTIMONIAL NO. 2. Major Linelli, Garibaldi Guard, pronounces the Re-LIEF an "excellent medicine" for the army. TESTIMONIAL NO. 3. Col. George Lyons, of the Eighth Regiment N. Y. S. M., all his officers, and 300 privates, endorse the Relief in the most emphatic terms, and suggest its immediate ntroduction into the medical stores of every branch of the service. TESTIMONIAL NO. 4. Surgeon E. K. Seaborn and Colonel Phelps, of the First Regiment of Vermont Volunteers, warmly approve the Relief, and the regiment has taken with it to the field a sufficient supply for present use.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 5. Captain John Whitlock, Co. I California Regiment, the 5th of June, 1861, he administered the Relief to forattacks of diarrhea and dysentery; that its remedial effects were immediate; and that a majority of the sick REPORTED FOR DULY THE SAME AFTERNOON. He there fore recommends its addition to the medical stores of the regiment as a measure of the "highest importance.

TESTIMONIAL NO. 6.
The military editor of the New York Sunday Atlas Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Twelfth, and Sixty-ninth Regi Gov. Dennison returned from Washington last of cases of sun-stroke." night.
He received such an increase of the Ohio con-As a protective against and remedy for dysentery diarrhea, fever and ague, bilious, yellow, and other fe vers, and of the effects of miasma, unwholesome wate and excessive heat; as a general invigorant and restors ary, of six guins each, and twelve companies of tive; and also as an external application for reducing the lonammation of wounds, the Relief is infallible. Gov. Dennison and Gen. Fremont reviewed the Twenty-Fourth Regiments at Camp Chase this morning. Their appearance and movements were highly satisfactory. These regiments go immediately into active service in Western Virginia, probably with the Kanawha column. They are well efficered and well drilled, and will make their mark.

The three months' troops are en route from Virginia. The Fourteenth Regiment, Col. Steedman, passed through Columbus this afternoon, going to Toledo. After a brick furlough, two thirds of it will re-enlist for the war.

Will re-enlist for the war,
Mrs, General McClellan passed here to-day en route for Washington.

United States the past four mosths. These writers affirm that the true tone of English public sentiment finds expression in the proceedings of religious bodies. The Baptists of England have passed resolutions of sympathy with the Union men of this country. The Congregational Union of England and Wales unanimously passed a similar resolution. A letter from a well informed British clergyman to his American correspondent says:

No English government dara recognize the independence of the Confederate States. They sould not remain in office for an hour after doing so. The neutrality they have announced they will be compelled to observe, even if they were disposed to recede from it to your disadvantage. In spite of a strong desire to keep clear of all entanglement, I am sure that no course would be more thoroughly popular than a bold avowal of sympathy with the North and of disapproval of the conduct of the seceding States.

Indiana has been detained here to day to be paid off. The 7th, Col. Dumont, and the 2th, Col. Milroy, arrived at noon to-day, and met with an enthusiastic reception. After dimentally and the 2th, Col. Milroy, arrived at noon to-day, and met with an enthusiastic reception. After dimentally the year welcomed by Gov. Morton and T. A. RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS. HOUSEHOLD BLESSING NO. 3. RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS are the only Ves-table substitute for Calomel, Mercury, Antimony, Qui-nine, and ther kindred mineral poisons in use. RADWAY'S REGULATING PILLS ARE THE MOST PERFECT PILLS IN USE, and the only Pills that possess any new medicinal properties or regulating powers that have been discovered during the present century THE WEAK GROW STRONG.

The first dose of Radway's Pills rows the seed of health in the sick and diseased system, and in fifteen minutes after a dose is swallowed will check the progress of disease: in six hours an evacuation from the bowels will follow, when the patient will grow better; every day the patient will gain strength. The sick become healthy and the feeble strong; every or gan in the diseased body is resuscitated with new life and vigor, and health and regularity will reign throughout the whole system. The liver will be regular in secreting bile, the skin regular in its functions, and the heart regular in its beatings, the pulse regular in its motions, and the bowels regular, at a regular hour, in discharging their contents. Let all who have occasion to take physic take a dose of Radway's Pills. If your system is out of order, two or three of Radway's Pils will establish regularity.

The following silments Radway's Pills will quickly cure and free the system from all irritating humors and leave every organ of the body in a natural and healthy condition: MACKLIN HAMS—A choice lot sugar-cured Hams and country Bacon just received in store and for MACKEREL—200 whole and half bhis Nos. 1. 2, and 3 mackerel in store and for sale by AND'W BUCHANAN & CO.

THE SEIZURE OF STATE ARMS AT MAY FIELD.—We call the attention of the public in general and of Gov. Magoffin in particula publish in the Journal of to-day. The outrage demands the instant and grave attention of both the public and the Governor.

We take it for granted that the principal facts in the case are not open to dispute. That certain armed secessionists, a portion of them from the Confederate army, have seized illethem off in triumph to Tennessee, and that the arms thus seized and borne off are now, or were at the date of the latest possible intelli- and in behalf of the revolting States. gence from that region, distributed amongst the Confederate camps lying immediately bewond the Southern border of Kentucky, will not, we presume, be disputed by any one. We believe these are simple facts. They are no doubt incontestable. And there is reason to believe that Gov. Magoffin is aware of this from information which he himself deems perfeetly credible. There is very good reason to

It will be seen from our correspondence tha Senator Johnson has been more or less active in this matter, ostensibly at least on the side of law and order, and we all know that Senator Johnson, whose expansive solicitude for the public interests has won for him the imperishable sobriquet of "The Senator from Cairo," is Gov. Magoffin's Minister Plenipotentiary to thereabouts; and we all know, too, that one of he is still for neutrality. the chief duties of a plenipotentiary is to report to his master the progress of events which goffin of the facts, and, if he has, Gov. Ma- he pretends to be. goffin is at present in possession of information respecting this affair which he considers trustworthy and that leaves no doubt in his own mind that a flagrant outrage has been committed upon the sovereign rights of the State. We do not question for a moment that such is the information of His Excellency.

in her veins and mounting to her cheeks as the intelligence of this crying outrage upon her honor and her rights is flashing through her borders. Will the Governor respond to this stolen be carried back into our limits to remain at least until after the election? Will he deunderstanding with the depredators or bring it about in some other way, and, then, after the lapse of a suitable time or of no time at all direct his facile organs to announce with a flourish that General or Colonel or Major Such-a-one in the Confederate army politely were subject to his order, that His Excellency politely ordered them back into Kentucky, that so ends another Union slander?

We confess this seems to us the course His Excellency will be most likely to pursue. In our opinion, his action in the case lies between this and nothing. We shall see.

ELECTIONS TO THE LEGISLATURE.—The day of election of the members of the Legislature is now very near at hand. We hope that the importance of the result of the action of the people on that day is properly estimated. Certainly it cannot be overestimated.

In this canvass for the Legislature the se cessionists are playing a dishonest game. They To the Editors of the Louisville Journal: know their lack of strength as a party, and they aim to supply it by cunning and false pretences. Months ago we predicted what they freedom of the press—farewell.

Although not directly disclaiming or repudiating secession, they strive to keep it out of sight. They would make the public believe that they take no other position in this crisis of affairs than the policy of Kentucky neutrally and the restoration of peace between the belligerent sections. The candidates in this immediate vicinity for the State Senate and House of Representatives, have, unless a forgery has been perpetra ted, made a publication, in which they declare in favor of nothing whatever except Kentucky neutrality and national peace. They scrupulously keep out of view their well known sentiments and doctrines and desires. They don't inform the public that they put upon neutrality the same absurd and preposterous construction that was put upon it by Gov. Magoffin and his organs. A SHORT METHOD WITH SECESSIONISTS .-Whenever, Union reader, you hear a secession to the various accounts of this foray which we ist talking or pretending to talk in favor of neutrality, ask him whether he doesn't hold that the war on the part of the Government is a war of subjugation If he says "No," he admits that the war or the part of the Government is right in principle, and rules himself out of the secession party; if he says "Yes," ask him if in the case o gally at Mayfield 1000 muskets and six brass awar of subjugation on the part of the Governcannon belonging to the State and have borne | ment he isn't pledged by the platform of his party to go for the instant unsheathing of the sword of Kentucky against the Government

If he denies that he is so pledged, cite the following passage from the secession platform Kentucky having defined her present position to be that of strict neutrality, to maintain which the State should be fully armed, and her intention to take no part in this unnatural war of co ercion unless her soil is invaded; but if the enter prise announced in the proclamation of Presiden Lincoln should at any time assume the aspect of coln should at any time assume the aspect of a war for the subjugation of the seceding States by a military force, we do not hesitate to say that Kentucky should promptly unsheathe the sword in what will then become the common cause,

If he admits that he is so pledged, and he will be constrained to admit it after you have cited this passage if not before, ask him to be good enough to explain how Kentucky can un sheathe her sword against the Government and in behalf of the revolting States and at the same time remain neutral.

SHOOTING AFFAY AT CLARSVILLE.—By letters received from Clarksville, Tenn., yesterday, we learn that an affray occurred there on Wednesday, between Lieut, Erskine Joyes and Mr. Morris Montgomery, both of this city, and men bers of a company of secessionists who left this city a few weeks ago for the Southern Confederacy, which company is at present stationed at Camp Boone, near Clarksville. Mr. Montgomesurvived yesterday, but the wound was thought eral batteries. to be fatal. Mr. Joyes was arrested at once, examined, and acquitted upon the ground that the shooting was done in self-defence.

MAMMOTH CAVE. - The lease of the Mammoth Cave property has been purchased by Mr. E. K. Owsley, and all the customary accommodations are now offered to the public. We are assured by those who know Mr. Owsley well that nothwill be wanting on his part to render the great Kentucky wonder even a more powerful attraction than it has been in the years past.

We have no doubt that the season at the Mammoth Cave will be a most successful one. It is true that money is not abundant, but the expenses at the Cave are very moderate, and surely thousands will be delighted to make their escape to so calm and quiet and sublime a retreat in these times of excitement and peril and disaster.

DEATH OF JOHN H. HANNA. - This gentleman departed this life at Frankfort on Wednesday afternoon. The Yeoman says he had been in delicate health for some time, but had been going about until the last day or two. Mr. Hanna has been Clerk of the Federal Courts in Kentucky for about fifty years, from which post he retired few years ago. He was a gentleman of marked ccomplishments and elegant manners, and of very great charity. His contributions to important benevolent objects, churches, schools, orphan institutions, &c., were very large and judiciously applied, and his memory will be blessed among men as long as good deeds shall be appreciated.

DESCRIPTION OF THE GREAT BATTLE AT BULL'S UN. -The New York Times of Tuesday contain the following description of the battle of the 21st which was written by Mr. Raymond, who was ar

As I telegraphed you yesterday, the attack was nade in three columns, two of which, however, vere mainly feints, intended to amuse and occu-by the enemy, while the substantial work was one by the third. It has been known for a long one by the third. It has been known for a long me that the range of hills which border the nall swampy stream known as Bull's Run, has sen very thoroughly and extensively fortified by the rebals—that batteries had been planted at by the rebals—that batteries had been planted at every available point, usually concealed in the woods and bushes which abound in that vicinity, and covering every way of approach to the region beyond. These are the advance defenses of Manassas Junction, which is some three miles further off. Until these were carried, no approach could be made to that place; and after they should be carried others of a similar character would have to be overcome at every point where they could be erected. The utmost that military skill and ingenuity could accomplish for the defence of this point was done. Gen. McDowell was unwilling to make an attack directly in face of these batteries, as it would be of doubtful issue, and must inevitably result in a very serious loss of life. theres, as it would be of adultful sale, and must inevitably result in a very serious loss of life. After an attack had been resolved upon, there-fore, he endeavored to find some way of turning the position. His first intention was to do this but the Southern side—to throw a strong column into the place from that direction, while a feigned tittack should be made in front. On Thursday, when the troops were advanced to Centraville. nen the troops were advanced to Centreville. was found that the roads on the south side of these positions were almost impracticable—that they were narrow, crocked, and stony, and that it would be almost impossible to bring up enough artillery to be effective in the time required This original plan was, therefore, abandoned, and Fri-day was devoted to an examination by the tray was devoted to an examination by the topo-aphical engineers of the northern side of the Major Barnard and Captain Whipple reconnoitred the place for miles around, and reported that the position could be entered by a path coming from the north, though it was somewhat long and circuitous. This was selected, therefore, as the mode and point of attack. On Saturday the troops were all brought closely up to Centreville, and all needful preparations were made for the attack which was intended for were made for the attack which was intended for the next day. Yesterday morning, therefore, the army marched by two roads—Col. Richardson with his command taking the Southern, which leads to Bull's Run, and Gen. Tyler the Northern—running parallel to it at a distance of about a mile and a half. The movement commenced at about 3 o'clock. I got up a little before 4, and found the long line of troops extended far out on either road. I took the road by which Col. Hunter with his command and Gen. McDowell and staff had gone, and pushed on directly for the front. After going out about two miles Colonel Hunter turned to the right, marching obliquely towards the Run, which he was to cross some four miles higher up and then come down upon the intrenched positions of the enemy on the other side. Col. Miles was left at Centreville and on the road, with reserves which he was to bring up whenever there wight the search of the contraction. the road, with reserves which he was to bring up whenever they might be needed. Gen. Tyler went directly forward to engage the enemy in ront and send reinforcements to Col. Hunter whenever it should be seen that he was engaged. I went out, as I have already stated, upon the his section. After going out about three miles, you come to a point down which the road, leading hrough a forest, descends—then it proceeds by a uccession of rising and falling knolls for a quarer of a mile, when it crosses a stone bridge and hen ascends by a steady slope to the hights beyond. At the ton of that slope the rebals had then ascends by a steady slope to the hights beyond. At the top of that slope, the rebels had planted heavy batteries, and the woods below were filled with their troops and with concealed cannon. We proceeded down the road to the first of the small knolls mentioned, when the whole column halted. The 30-pounder Parrott gun, which has a longer range than any other in the army, was planted directly in the road. Capt. Ayres' battery was stationed in the woods a little to the right. The First Ohio and Second New York Regiments were thrown into the woods in advance on the left. The Sixty-ninth New York, the First, Second and Third Connecticut regiments were ranged behind them, and the Second Wisconsin was thrown into the woods on the

WHAT GEN. FREMONT THINKS OF THE RE WHAT GEN. FREMONT THINKS OF THE REPULSE.—On the road from Columbus to Cincinnation Wednesday afternoon Gen. Fremont expressed himself very freely to a prominent citizen of Cincinnati about the war, and especially about the late repulse of the Federal army. The General gave it as his opinion that the "defeat" of Sunday last would have a good effect upon the Union troops, making, them rally with redoubled zeal around the stars and stripes. He thought our loss, considering the circumstances, was very our loss, considering the circumstances, was very a speedy termination, and said he "did not see how t could have any other result than the perpetu-ty of the Union."—Cin. ANECDOTE OF WELLINGTON.—I remember a wooden-legged soldier, whom I once saw defend the Duke of Wellington in a mob. But I must tell you the story. In the spring of 1827, I was spending an extra vacation in London, and thus I witnessed the mobbing of this great man. I suppose you have thought that the Iron Duke had only successes and laudations and honors in this world. Not so. He had not been the Iron Duke world. Not so. He had not been the Iron Duke if he had not been hardened by moral conflict as well as by warlike combat. At the time I was in London, the Duke had given his voice for Catholic emancipation, consequently he had made himself obnoxious to the bigoted rabble. Sectarian preachers preached against him day and night from pulpit, stand, and stump about treason, Popery, and the like, until the poor ignorant masses imagined that they must be bitted and brilled by a Pope and priesthood, and to the death, if Catholics were treated like human beings. Wellington had thrown his great influence in the scale of emancipation, consequently the mob determined to revenge what they considered their wrongs on him. The animus of a mob is more frequently a mistake than a wickedness. One morning in February I noticed threatening crowds near the Pall Mall gate, not far from the statue of Achilles. This statue was cast from tensions taken in the Iron Duke's various battles, and was dedicated "to Arthur, Duke of Wallivston by the Women of England." I dear the Pall Mall gate, and was dedicated "to Arthur, Duke of Wallivston by the Women of England." I dear the Pall Mall gate, and was dedicated "to Arthur, Duke of Wallivston by the Women of England." He wore a blue frock coat, buttoned up to the chin, a military stock, and brown pantaloons. His falcon eye surveyed the excited groups about the Park gate, with a sort of pleasant contempt. The mob were either awed by his appearance and prestige, or they had not yet screwed their courage to the insulting point. The Duke passed on horseback, attended by his faithful valet. Nobody molested him till he reached his office. There the mob hissed him, but when he turned around and faced them, the hissing ceased. He then quietly entered his office. As I knew the hour he would leave Downing street to return to the Park, I was them, the hissing ceased, the then quelly eleave Downing street to return to the Park, I was there in due seeson. The neighborhood of the Horse Guards probably deterred a good many of the excited fanatics from gathering about the office, but numbers were gathered. The Duke, who was punctuality itself, came out at the appointed moment, and mounted his horse, amid groans and hisses. After he passed the Horse Guards, the noise increased to shouts. When he passed Charing Cross, and entered Pall Mall, the mob began to throw missiles and dirt. Near Pall Mall gate, there was a whirlpool of human beings, eddying round in strange, wild, and yet in a sort of symmetrical confusion. I feared they would murder him there. As he approached the gate, a good deal spattered with mud and dirt, the mob, as if compelled by some higher power than that of earth, made a lane for him to pass. For a moment he was very near them. For that moment they seemed awed, and appeared to relent. But when he had entered the gate, their violence rose to fury. He dismounted with difficulty, placed o fary. He dismounted with difficulty, placed his back against the rails of the statue of Achil-es, and calmly faced his farious assailants. I shall never forget that moment. Thoughts and feelings took a mastery of my nature then that have swayed me ever since. Not one word did he utter. There was no shrinking—not even a cloud of apprehension upon that glorious face. Oh, how infinitely small and contemptible his assailants looked! How great is man! How little

There was a lull in the storm of shouts, and missiles and dirt, and an old Irishman, with a wooden log, hustled his way to the side of the duke. This man sold apples and oranges by Hyde Park gate, and his basket had been upset by the mob. When he had reached the Iron Duke he stood by his side and unbound his wooden less and myde a speech that immediately wooden leg and made a speech that immediately wooden begins and made a seech that himself we subdued the monsters. He begun:

"My curse on you for cowardly scoundrels! If ye have pluck, come and fight me. Let there be ye have pluck, come and fight me. Let there be two of us against you all. Begorra come and kill uz both. This is your fair play! This is English justice! thousands against one. Think of Waterloo. But for him and uz, Boney would have be ten ye. I've gotten my wooden leg for fighting for ye, ye villins—and ye are goin' to pay him by murderin' him, ye bloody scoundrels! Come on, but come one at a time, not like cowards and ruffians as ye are, altogether—"

The speech was a mighty success. The mob was ashamed and calmed and began to sneak away. Wellington gave a smile of recognition to the man who had saved his life, and ever afterwards he amply provided for him, as he did for many others, out of his own private fortune, in his own-quiet, noiseless way.
